

WHAT IS A 2GO BIBLE STUDY?

This Bible study is part of a series that prompts learners to interpret, personalize, and apply Scripture. The simplicity and depth of these studies encourage people of all faith levels to explore Scripture using the Inductive Method.

Discovering biblical treasures which become personal to the participant is a hallmark of this series. Another highlight is that the studies are designed to encourage group participation. Through open and honest sharing, comprehension is enhanced with varied perspectives. This dynamic enables members to more readily apply Scripture to their lives.

Each study has suggested Scriptures providing options for separate studies, spanning four to 12 weeks in length. The same passage of suggested Scripture is read each day and thought-provoking questions are answered. The repeated reading of and searching through the Scriptures allows the Holy Spirit to reveal deeper meaning and insight into the passage.

It is only when truth is self-discovered that it is appropriated. When a man is simply told the truth, it remains external to him and he can quite easily forget it. When he is led to discover the truth himself, it becomes an integral part of him and he never forgets it.

William Barclay, Theologian

With this Bible Study Participants Will:

- Learn to study the Word of God on their own.
- Become self-feeders, personally exploring and applying God's truths.
- Understand that the Holy Spirit is their teacher, instead of another speaker or author.
- Experience the Holy Spirit speaking through the Scriptures based on their faith level, season of life, background, and circumstances.
- Be equipped with Inductive Method skills to use these Bible studies as a template to explore any passage of Scripture or book of the Bible.
- Have confidence to share, lead others, or facilitate their own small group Bible study using these templates that create engaging Scripture-centered conversation.

HOW DO 2GO BIBLE STUDIES USE THE INDUCTIVE APPROACH?

The Inductive Approach involves exploring, discovering, and evaluating all the data before concluding. Detectives gathering information at a crime scene use this approach by asking good questions and observing every detail.

The Deductive Approach starts with a predetermined outcome in mind and then seeks to prove that scenario. Defense lawyers use this method when hoping to guide the jury to a specific conclusion.

Imagine a group has vacationed at the Grand Canyon. After the trip, group members gathered to tell their stories. Some viewed the canyon from the observation decks, others from the backs of donkeys traversing the canyon, a few from a raft trip on the Colorado River, and the remaining from a helicopter flyover. Each excursion brought a unique perspective and as they shared their experiences, a 3-D panoramic picture of the Grand Canyon emerged.

Observation

What does the passage say?

What is the big picture, main idea, or overview?

(Imagine a panoramic photograph of the Grand Canyon.)

Interpretation

What is the meaning of the passage?

What questions, key words, phrases, life lessons, and truths did you record?

(Observe single snapshots taken of the canyon from a variety of angles.)

Application

How does this passage apply to me?

How will I put this into practice?

These studies use the Inductive Method so that participants will observe, interpret, and apply God's Word. A group leader can then facilitate a 30-45-minute Bible-anchored discussion with the Study Guide as a template. As group members share what has been revealed and their application of God's Word, the dialog tends to be rich and varied. Group discussion also clarifies understanding. Personal study and group discourse make the process of perceiving God's transforming truths feasible, fascinating, and fruitful.

HOW TO USE THE STUDY GUIDE AND LEADER NOTES

Study Guide

The series Study Guides each include an introductory story, theme, daily questions, and sets of suggested Scriptures for study—ranging in length from four to 12 weeks. Before beginning a new study, the leader selects a set of Scriptures and assigns the passage for the following week. Individuals will read that same passage daily, pray for understanding, and complete the questions for each day in preparation for discussion.

The leader can give each member one printed Study Guide or a notebook they have assembled with a Cover and weekly Study Guides. There is also a Compact Study Guide available for print, that members can use with their own notebooks or journals.

2GO Bible Studies are transferable. It is easy for participants to use the Study Guide as a template for Bible-anchored discussions one on one or with others when they begin their own Bible study group.

The Leader Notes include useful questions and ideas that expand the Study Guide for group discussion. They are designed to elicit thought from the big idea to a more personal viewpoint. As the leader asks questions, they do not give answers. Instead, they encourage group members to respond.

2GO Bible Studies cultivate conversation by employing the Inductive Method. As you may recall, this approach to Scripture can be compared to a group vacation. Just as a more complete picture is formed when the scenery is viewed in greater detail through many eyes, so will the Scripture passage be expanded as members work through the study together. Keep this in mind while fostering dialogue. Strive to create a safe and comfortable environment where members feel free to offer their insights and discoveries. Then, sit back and watch God work!

HOW TO LEAD THE FIRST BIBLE STUDY SESSION

Step One: Get to know each other

Begin with Coffee & Conversation (10-15 MINUTES)

Share a cup of coffee, tea, juice, or perhaps a snack. Or simply spend 10-15 minutes conversing with each other before you begin. This time of fellowship can foster friendship and community.

Gather Group to Begin (30-45 MINUTES)

Invite the group to sit, open with a simple prayer, and begin by having each person state their name and answer one Short Answer Question (the same question for the entire group).

“Where were you born?”

“What did you want to be when you grew up?”

“What is your favorite season of the year?”

“What was your first job?”

“How many siblings do you have and where are you in the birth order?”

“What is your favorite junk food?”

This is a quick way for the group members to get to know something new about each other. If you have a group of six or less, you may want to ask an extra question. You also might want to begin each week with a similar activity until your members are more familiar with one another.

Step Two: Get to know the study

Explain the Bible Study, Theme, and Introductory Story

- Explain that the 2GO Bible Study encourages group members to read and study the Scripture passage each day for five days using different methods of discovery.
- Recalling what you read in HOW DO 2GO BIBLE STUDIES USE THE INDUCTIVE APPROACH? (page 2), explain how this method works through: observation, interpretation, and application.
- Illustrate that your Bible study discussions will be much like gathering to share experiences from a group vacation where you viewed sights from varying vantage points.
- Share the theme and introductory story from the Study Guide.

HOW TO LEAD THE FIRST BIBLE STUDY SESSION (CONTINUED)

Step Three: Get to know the format

Demonstrate How to Use the Study Guide

Compact Study Guide

Give each member a printed Compact Study Guide, Study Guide, or a notebook you have prepared. Point out which of the four sets of suggested Scriptures you have selected. Have everyone turn to the passage for week one and ask a volunteer to read the verses. Briefly walk your group through and demonstrate how to use the Study Guide. Facilitate discussion by asking a few questions in order as time allows. Instruct members to use these same verses in preparation for the following session.

Be sure to remind members to read the same passage daily, pray for understanding, and complete the questions for each day. Emphasize that there are no “right or wrong” answers to the daily questions. Share that the Holy Spirit will guide them as He combines His Word, the circumstances of each person’s life, and where they are in their spiritual journey. He will reveal what He desires them to learn and how to apply it to their lives.

Step Four: Get to know group guidelines

Share the ABCDs of Discussion

Explain these points as group guidelines for Bible study sessions.

- A - Audible (Be loud enough for all to hear.)
- B - Brief (Share statements not stories.)
- C - Christ and Content-centered (Stay focused.)
- D - Discuss without Division (Don’t talk about politics, denominations, or controversial issues.)

Share Your Personal Excitement About the 2GO Bible Study

Encourage the group to invite others to join the study group at any time. This creates a welcoming environment and invites community.

HOW TO FACILITATE A WEEKLY BIBLE STUDY

Begin with Coffee & Conversation (10-15 MINUTES)

Have group members take turns providing refreshments. Or, simply gather and spend 15 minutes conversing with each other before you begin.

Leader Opens with a Simple Prayer

Although you long to encourage your members to pray for one another, the focus of your time together is Bible study. Visit nbs2go.com to read about Handling Prayer and Prayer Walking for ideas on prayer within and for your Bible study group.

Sample prayer to begin: “Father, we ask that you would be present with us, that you would guide and teach us as we study your Word, and that our words and discussions would be pleasing unto you. Father, we thank you for every person here today. In the name of Jesus, Amen.”

Remind the Group of the 2GO Bible Study Theme

Read Passage to be Discussed

Lead the Discussion

It is very important to remind your group of the ABCDs of Discussion before beginning each session. Using the Study Guide template with the Leader Notes as a supplement, work through the questions for each day to facilitate group conversation.

Assign the Scripture Passage for the Next Week

Members will read that Scripture every day, pray for understanding, and answer the questions for the day using one of the following:

- Compact Study Guide and personal notebook/journal
- Study Guide you distribute or they print from nbs2go.com.

Reminders

Additional questions to encourage group discussion:

What else did you notice?

What do you mean...?

Does anyone have something to add?

Could you rephrase that statement?

Would you explain that point?

What reason can you give for that answer?

What do you think it means to ...?

How would you react to that situation?

What can we learn from ...?

What impressed you most about ...?

LEADER NOTES

FAITH

LIVE INTENTIONALLY VIEWING ETERNITY

Begin by asking questions that the members answered on the Study Guide. Use these Leader Notes to draw your members into deeper discussions. Refrain from answering the questions. The goal is to facilitate open and honest sharing among group members.

DAY 1 FULLY BELIEVING

Have everyone turn to the passage. Ask for a volunteer to read it to the group.

Read this caption from Day 1: FAITH = Fully Believing. Explain that knowing God's Word, who He is, and what He says is the foundation of each member's faith.

What do you think is the author's main point in the passage?

What is the big picture?

How would you explain this passage to someone else?

Was anything new to you?

Do you have any questions about what you read?

What impressed you most about God, Jesus, or the Holy Spirit in this passage?

What is the most interesting thing you read in this passage?

In what ways can you identify with this passage?

What thoughts and feelings did you have as you worked through this passage?

DAY 2 ALL GOD SAYS

Read these captions from Days 1 & 2: FAITH is Fully believing All God says. Explain that this section focuses on practical instructions and personal promises for a life of faith.

What stood out to you in the passage this week?

Any contrasts or comparisons? Any word pictures? Any repeated words or phrases?

DAY 2 (CONT'D)

Each week choose different questions to guide the discussion on the “commands.”

- What are the commands or instructions in the passage?
- What commands or instructions are easy for you to follow?
- What commands or instructions are more difficult for you to follow?
- Give a brief example of what it looks like to follow each command.
- Why do you think God included these verses in the Bible?

Each week choose different questions to guide the discussion on the “promises.”

- What are the promises in this passage?
- What promise do you need the most?
- Did you notice any conditions to the promises?
- Share a time when a promise from this passage encouraged you.
- What promise encourages you the most and why?
- What significance do these promises have for you personally?
- How could your daily life be different if you would believe these promises?

Any word studies or additional verses you would like to share?

DAY 3 | CHOOSE BY FAITH

Most of your study time will be spent in this section. Read these captions from Days 1-3: FAITH is Fully believing All God says, I choose by faith. You may at this time, wish to divide a large group into smaller groups for this portion.

SMALL GROUP: Divide into groups of three to five individuals. Ask them to answer the questions (10-15 minutes) from Day 3 in their Study Guide. Gather the groups back together and have a spokesperson from each group give a summary of their discussion.

LARGE GROUP: If you remain in a large group setting, ask the questions they have answered on Day 3 in the Study Guide and some from the section below.

What do you think keeps a person from believing what God says is true for them?

By choosing to believe, “taking God at His Word”, how will your faith be affected?

What part do feelings play in choosing to believe?

DAY 3 (CONT'D)

Describe _____'s (character) faith as seen in this passage?

How was _____'s faith built? Tested? Refined?

What choices did the character make by faith?

What did you learn from the results of those choices?

Why do you think God included this person's story in the Bible?

What in this character's faith would you like to imitate? Why?

Tip: Pairing or grouping with different members each week helps your group build community and friendships. Initially, some may not enjoy the smaller group time, but as they grow, it may become their favorite part of the study.

DAY 4 TO SURRENDER

Read these captions from Days 1-4: FAITH is Fully believing All God says, I choose by faith To surrender.

Share that the Holy Spirit is each member's counselor, helper, and guide. He speaks through the Bible and personalizes the truths as they listen. Encourage the group to take seriously their personal time of listening each week.

What did God specifically say to you as you listened to Him this week?

Have volunteers read what they wrote in their Study Guide for Day 4 (or pair up) and share what they heard God say.

Discuss the impact of having God speak personally.

What did you hear?

How did it make you feel?

What verses in this passage meant the most to you and why?

Ask if there are volunteers willing to read their personal prayer.

DAY 5 HEART TO LIVE

Read these captions from Days 1-5: FAITH is Fully believing All God says I choose by faith To surrender my Heart to LIVE (Live Intentionally Viewing Eternity).

Ask for volunteers to share their personal applications from this week's study.

What do you sense God is asking you to do by faith in response to your study?

What changes in thought and action need to be adjusted in light of eternity?

Who would you like to imitate? What would it look like for you to live intentionally viewing eternity?

What is the first step?

What one lesson from this passage can apply to your life of faith?

How will you do it?

How can we help?

Tip: Remind the group that the goal of the Bible study group is not to fill their heads with more knowledge, but to take this new knowledge and use it to transform their lives for God's kingdom and His purposes. Their faith and convictions will grow and solidify as they apply God's truth to their lives and talk about it with others.
